Welcoming Banner Approved

MATTAPOISETT SELECTMEN'S MEETING
 MARCH 5, 1991-by VIRGINIA MORGAN

Selectmen last Tuesday gave permission to Evelyn S. Pursley to display a banner reading "Welcome Home Persian Gulf Veterans" at the Fire Station. In her letter to the board she said she has received permission from Fire Chief Donald C. Wood.

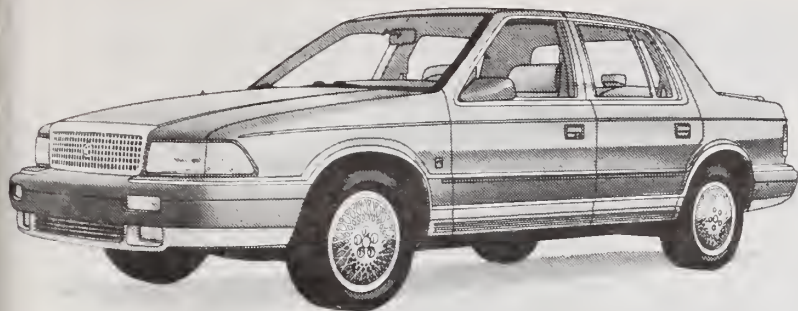

The cost of the 3 foot by 20 foot banner will be paid by donations that will be requested of townspeople, Mrs. Pursley wrote. "We are hoping to make this a community involvement", she added.

Assisting Gene and Evelyn Pursley are Kevin and Sandra Dawson. Anyone wishing to donate to the banner may send their check to either of the two couples and should be made out to Evelyn Pursley-Banner Fund, 93 Marion Road.

Mrs. Pursley, who is herself a veteran of World War II and the Korean Conflict having served as a nurse in the U. S. Navy, is an active member of Florence Eastman Post 280 American Legion in Mattapoisett.

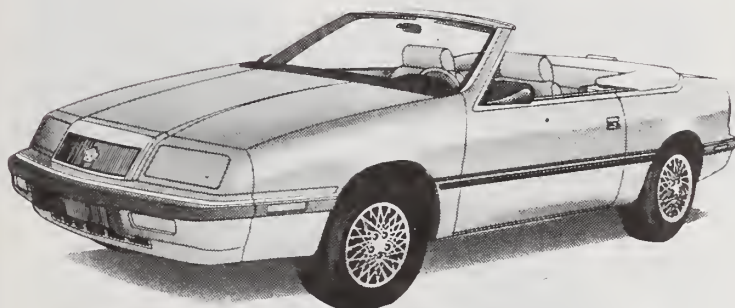

When contacted after the brief meeting, Mrs. Pursley said if there are any funds remaining after purchasing the banner to be made by Ken Pacheco, "we would like to hold an all-community picnic at Ned's Point Veterans' Park". Selectmen also gave their approval for the picnic providing the time didn't conflict with the July 4 Road Race, she noted.

Mrs. Pursley said this time has been cleared with the road race committee as the race is held in the morning and will be over by 12 noon. The picnic will be a "bring your own food type". "This may be the start of an annual community picnic just like the old days", Mrs. Pursley said.

In other business, Selectmen:

APPROVED Lifesport, Inc. of Fairhaven to demonstrate the Fanatic 1991 line of windsurfing equipment at Ned's Point on Thursday, May 23rd.

Thomas M. Bliss, president and resident of Mattapoisett, explained in his letter, "the event will have no effect on harbor traffic as the sailors will sail in the lee of the point. The effect on parking will be minimal, as a representative of Lifesport will direct parking and maintain traffic flow. Plenty of parking will be available for other visitors to the park."

WERE INFORMED by Town Clerk Lois K. Ennis that state Attorney General Harshbarger had approved the by-laws pertaining to the annual town meeting date and composition of the Finance Committee on March 4, 1991.

Selectmen Chairman John DeCosta noted that because the board had appointed two new members to the expanded Finance Committee before given state approval, a second appointment had to be made. Peter Kortright and Donald Preissler were appointed as members-at-large with their terms to expire April 1994.

Our commitment to service comes with a money-back guarantee.®

If we make a mistake, you shouldn't have to pay for it.

Lots of banks promise good service.

At Plymouth Savings Bank, we do more than just promise; we're putting our money where our promises are.

We know that nobody's perfect. Even banks make mistakes.

We also recognize that if we make the mistakes, we should face the consequences.

Here's how it works.

If we make a deposit or withdrawal error, we'll pay you $5.

On all deposit accounts (savings, checking, CDs, etc.), if a deposit or withdrawal error is made, it will be corrected, any fees associated will be rebated and $5.00 will be deposited in the appropriate account.

If we make a transfer error, we'll pay you $5.

Transfers of IRAs from Plymouth Savings Bank to any other bank, if in error, will result in a waiver of the $25 fee and the customer will be given $5.

If we give you poor consumer loan service, we'll pay you $5.

If we don't have an answer for your completed consumer loan application in 24 hours, we'll give you $5.

We want you to know that service is, and always has been, a priority at Plymouth Savings Bank.

You'll never hear us say, "The computer did it," or "It's not my job," or heaven forbid, "We tried to get in touch with you," etc.

From our tellers to our operations personnel to the officers of the bank, we're committed to service.

People serving people. That's what it's all about.

It's your money and your peace of mind. When you bank with the professionals, we back up our promises with a money back guarantee.

"THE PRINT SHOP COURSE"

For the past seven weeks sixteen third grade students from Center School have been participating in an after school computer course entitled "The Print Shop Course". Under the direction of Center School staff members Mrs. Valentine and Mrs. Brammer, the students have had an opportunity to experiment with their creative talents while learning various modes of the Print Shop Program. As a culminating activity, students were able to tour The Screen Works on February 13th. Thanks to the efforts and courtesy of Mrs. Deborah Chase, owner of The Screen Works and Center School parent, the students were able to observe their own kaleidoscope printouts pressed onto their own personalized pillowcases. The students displayed their many accomplishments from the course at their last class on February 27th at Center School. The course has proven to be a very rewarding and enjoyable experience for these third grade students.

Mattapoisett Recycling Committee

The Mattapoisett Recycling Committee will meet Monday, March 18th, at 7:30 p.m.

Recycling Counts!

NEXT NEWSPAPER COLLECTION

As you know, Mattapoisett recycles newspapers with Rochester's C.L.E.A.N. Inc. group. Their next pick-up had been set for mid-March. Now it's set for mid-April. The N.J. paper collection company changed the date, and are not taking any more customers.

We have two choices to recycle our newspapers now:

- 1) Wait for the mid-April date and go by C.L.E.A.N. Inc of Rochester as we have the last few months.

CHAPTER VII - CLOTHING

by JENNIE HILLER LUDMAN

February 1991

As I recall, during my early school years, clothing was a major problem in families of small but growing children. New clothes in the store were costly, so our mothers made over the coats, dresses and trousers of the older children for the younger ones.

I recall, one winter, when I was in second grade, she took apart my woolen school dress, opened all the seams, and sewed it up very nicely so that the inside pattern became the outside. I got some compliments on my "new" dress.

Occasionally she would sew for the boys - a blouse worn with short pants and a jacket. But mostly the three boys inherited jackets and trousers from older brothers.

Mother had a black seal skin coat, bought when she had been a teacher, that was cut and re-shaped several times by a local dressmaker who was scheduled, by the women in town, weeks in advance. As I recall, her price was $1.50 per day plus lunch and she was usually a busy seamstress.

About the year 1904, when the trolley line opened a quick and easy trip to New Bedford, one could shop in the city stores where special sales were often held. Most of the clothing of that day was made of cotton and used for boys' blouses (that was the term used), girls' dresses, women's and children's outfits for summer. Men's shirts were always cotton and sometimes summer trousers were made of cotton also.

At that time there were no wrinkle-proof materials. Each week I can remember the large wash basket full of cotton clothes to be ironed. The clothes were dampened and rolled up tightly. We had three flat irons made of heavy iron with shaped handles. We ironed in the kitchen, rotating the irons on the stove to heat them. With both mother and I working hard, it took almost a week to finish the ironing.

Men's suits were made of woolen cloth for winter. Winter clothing for women and girls, such as coats and suits, could be purchased in department stores in New Bedford. In winter, for school, a girl would have one good dress and she would take it off after school.

There were dry cleaning establishments in town, mostly for adult clothes. For children's wool outfits, the mother would wash them by hand and press very carefully.

Girls' dresses were in several different lengths. I think my dress in second grade came just below the knees. That would be worn with long black stockings held up with garters suspended from an underwaist. An older girl, age 10-15 years, wore a dress to the ankles, and a woman's dress would be down to their heels.

Boys' trousers were different lengths. They wore knicker trousers that buckled just above the knee, worn with long black stockings with their high shoes. The boys' garters were a circle of $\frac{1}{2}$ " wide elastic which held the socks to just below the knee.

Shoes for men and women and children were high shoes, over the ankle and laced up. These shoes were bought in New Bedford, but we in our family were fortunate in being able to have our shoes made by a friend of my father's who had a shoemaker's shop in the city.

Our feet had to be measured by this Mr. Charles Watkins at his shop. I recall that they cost my father little more than $5.00 a pair. Mr. Watkins must have understood the problems of growing feet, because our shoes would last at least over a year.

UNIVERSITY OF MASSACHUSETTS

Dean of Students Jo-Anne Vanin has announced the names of students who qualified for the Dean's List for the 1990 fall semester at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst.

Local students are Arthur E. Parks of Marion, Gregg P. Horan and Andrew C. Motta, both of Mattapoisett.

In order to qualify an undergraduate student must receive a 3.5 grade point average or better on a four-point scale. "Because fewer than 15% meet this high standard, making the Dean's List marks a significant accomplishment", said University Chancellor Joseph Duffey.

UNIVERSITY OF LOWELL

Seraphina G. Nicolosi of Mattapoisett, who is majoring in Physical Therapy, was named to the Dean's List at the University of Lowell for the fall semester 1990.

A Dean's List student at the University must achieve a semester rating of at least a 3.0 and no grade below a B.

DECISIONS ANNOUNCED

Special Permits granted recently by the Mattapoisett Board of Appeals include:

Jane T. Gowing of 13 Hitching Post Road was granted a special permit relating to property at 10 Avenue A for alterations to an existing non-conforming structure, a single family dwelling in the waterfront district in the Peases Point section. The 10,000 square foot lot fails to meet the 30,000 square foot size requirement of the current zoning by-law but does meet the 10,000 square foot size of its predecessor. The structure fails to meet the street setback requirement of 35 feet.

The proposed alterations are to add an eight foot by eleven foot addition to enlarge an existing bedroom on the first floor and also an eight foot by eleven foot porch with a set of steps four feet in width and extending approximately four feet from the addition.

Although these alterations will change the footprint of the existing structure, they will not increase the non-conformity. A letter written by Clerna E. Hill (a summer resident) of Aiken, South Carolina was received December 17, 1990 and it expressed her concerns of not knowing where the alterations were to be made and how they would affect her property next door.

No one appeared at the public hearing in opposition.

A special permit was granted to John M. and Ann M. Flynn of 48 Prospect Road, relating to their property regarding building a shed in violation of the state general laws which states that any building/activity on a lot containing less than 50 feet frontage or less than 5,000 square feet of area will be done so only with Board of Appeals approval.

The lot contains 4,540 square feet and fails to meet the 30,000 square size requirement of the current by-law. A six foot by eight foot shed was built for the purpose of storing tools, trash barrels on the northwest corner of the property with a 10 foot setback from Evergreen Street and a side setback of 15 feet without a building permit and appeals board approval.

A letter dated October 10, 1990 was sent to the Flynns by the building inspector. The board found that the construction and extension of the lawfully non-conforming use of the property will not be more detrimental than the existing use to the character of the rural residence district.

sity, Culinary Arts Department, who offered such delectables as Beef Rolauden, Chicken Cordon Bleu, Boneless Stuffed Rolled Turkey Breast and other delights. "Community support for this event is so strong", said Chef Coordinator Andy Peppard, "that when the last moment these young men didn't have a place to cook, the YWCA volunteered their kitchen." Diners at Men Who Cook would agree that they would not want to have missed out on these chefs' specialties.

Community support was also demonstrated by the 21 Patrons who purchased "tables" and hundreds of other sponsors whose donations amounted to over $12,000. "The increase in sponsorships, particularly during this tough economic time, is what brought us over the top", enthused Men Who Cook chairperson Debbie Herring. This year the Center had set a goal of $20,000, after realizing a profit of $16,000 last year. "Our Sponsor Committee began working last August to realize this success."

What everyone's been waiting for, "The Men Who Cook Cookbook", will be a reality for next year's event. Barbara Doherty, Women's Center Board member, and a Man Who Cooks, Ron Carver, are heading up the Cookbook Committee, and are looking for volunteers. For more information call first kid's album, "Family Tree", is a tune-ful blend of heart and whimsy that joins a growing collection of children's recordings. The album, fast becoming a children's classic, received the American Library Association Notable Recording Award in 1988. "Moonboat", Tom's latest release, is aimed at 4 to 11 year olds and their families. Both albums have catchy and singable songs that appeal to children and their parents.

Tom's special ability to reach audiences is not limited to his music, however. Between 1971 and 1976 he was the host of ABC-TV's Peabody and Emmy Award winning children's show, "Make a Wish". More recently, he was for three years the host of the National Geographic "Explorer" series.

Tickets are $4.50 each, general admission; group rates are available. For tickets call the Zeiterion Box Office at 994-2900.

Tickets are also available at all Ticketmaster locations or by calling Ticketmaster at (617) 931-2000.

The Zeiterion Theatre is located at 684 Purchase Street in historic, downtown New Bedford. The theatre is wheelchair accessible and there is plenty of free parking.

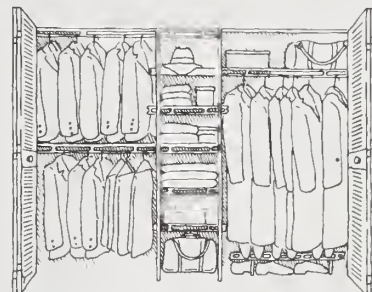

The series' final production, "Time for Fun", will be on Saturday, May 11th, presented by Child's Play Touring Theatre, a nationally acclaimed company that performs stories and poems written by children.

The Saturday Youth Theatre Festival is sponsored by Fairhaven Savings Bank, and funded in part by the Fairhaven and Dartmouth Arts Lottery Councils. The Zeiterion is also funded in part by the Massachusetts Cultural Council, the Arts Lottery Councils of Acushnet, Freetown, Marion, Mattapoisett, New Bedford, Rochester, Wareham, and Westport, the City of New Bedford,

Sea Monsters and Sharks

WITH EUGENIE CLARK

Eugenie Clark, whose work with sharks was featured in the National Geographic special "The Sharks" and who has ridden the dorsal fin of a 35-foot whale shark down 185 feet, will present a free, illustrated lecture March 18th at Southeastern Massachusetts University.

Dr. Clark's lecture, "Sea Monsters and Deep Sea Sharks", will be held at 8 p.m. in the first floor browsing area of the SMU Library. Use parking lot 13. Her subject will be presented in a manner understandable to non-scientists and older children.

An ichthyologist and professor in the department of zoology at the University of Maryland, Dr. Clark first entered the sea 40 years ago as a hard-hat diver. She identifies her love for the sea and its inhabitants as beginning at the age of nine, when she visited the New York Aquarium and first saw its sharks.

Her research has been conducted aboard the Calypso with Captain Jacques Cousteau as well as under many of the world's oceans and at the Cape Haze Marine Lab in Sarasota, Florida (which she founded and has since been renamed the Mote Marine Laboratory).

Among her findings is that sharks have noteworthy learning abilities. She conditioned sharks to press a target to obtain food, then studied their ability to visually discriminate between targets of different shapes and color. She is now studying shark behavior in the deep sea from sub-

Wildlife Education Workshop

The Lloyd Center is pleased to offer a Project Wild Workshop, from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. on Saturday, March 30th, to those educators who are interested in bringing wildlife into the classroom. Project Wild is a unique wildlife education program developed by the Massachusetts Division of Fisheries and Wildlife and the Massachusetts Audubon Society. It is based on the premise that wildlife is a subject that naturally intrigues young learners and motivates them to read and explore. Unlike traditional wildlife education materials it does not treat wildlife as a separate unit to be fitted into an already-packed curriculum.

Project Wild offers more than 120 activities which can be integrated into existing curricula. Activities such as "Musk Ox Maneuvers" or "What Did Your Lunch Cost Wildlife" are aimed at science classrooms, while others like "How Many Bears Can Live in This Forest" concentrates on math skills, "Color Crazy" focuses on the visual aspects of wildlife, and "Wild Words" sharpens writing skills.

According to Project Wild Instructor Karen Holmes, "These activities help students understand how subjects such as social studies, math, science, and English can be separately taught in school, but in real life situations are often bound together."

There are indoor activities and outdoor ones; activities for individuals, and large or small groups. Project Wild activities enhance learning in a wide variety of classroom subjects and with methods that make students aware of wildlife's existence, needs and the impact of humans. It encourages skill development, critical thinking, responsible actions, and informed decision making.

Lloyd Center

"WOODLOT WALK"

Come explore and learn about woodlot management! The Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies is offering a guided "Woodlot Walk" on Sunday, March 17th, from 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. Led by certified forester Philip Benjamin, participants will explore Gidley woods in the town of Dartmouth. Mr. Benjamin will talk about the management of wooded property in addition to taking core samples of trees in order to determine the past histories, age and health of trees in the Gidley woods.

Participants will learn techniques of determining age and health of trees as well as "reading" weather histories of the area through the "decoding" of "stored data" in a tree's core sample.

All are welcome and encouraged to come, see and learn these fascinating and fun tidbits on the nature of the woods. Fees for the "Woodlot Walk" are $3. for Lloyd Center members, $5. for non-members, and $1. for children under 12. For more information and registration contact the Lloyd Center at 990-0505 or stop by at 430 Potomska Road in South Dartmouth.

ificate of Academic Excellence", "Principal's Leadership Award", "National Honor Society Scholarship Program", and "Outstanding Vocational Student Award" to name a few.

For the second consecutive year, Old Colony will also recognize students who exemplify the highest standards of effort and motivation, students who do the very best they can with their given talents and ability level.

The award program is called "Excellence in Effort". One sophomore or junior in each of the school's twelve vocational technical programs will be nominated for the award. At a student body assembly, the nominees will be announced and the winners presented with a formal framed certificate and an Old Colony jacket, with the words, "Excellence in Effort" printed on the front. In addition, each winner will be a guest for lunch in the Cougar's Den at a luncheon, prepared specially by the students in the Culinary Arts Department. Finally, each winner will attend the Spring Advisory Board Dinner meeting with their parents to be held in early May.

Steven Urbanek, an offset printing teacher, and Casimiro Santos, a machine and tool technology teacher, developed the award program. It is their hope that the program will stimulate other Old Colony students to maximize their potential and increase their level of motivation and effort.

cational-Technical High School struck gold at the recent District VICA Skill Olympics held in Plymouth. The six students, along with twenty-three other Old Colony winners, have qualified for the State Skill Olympics to be held in April.

VICA (Vocational Industrial Clubs of America) is an international organization which allows vocational-technical students to compare their skills at the local, district, state, national, and international level. The District competition involved eight schools and over 600 competitors.

In addition to the six gold medals, Old Colony students collected seven silver medals, six bronze medals, and ten finalist awards. Earlier this year three Old Colony students qualified for State competition in the ancillary areas of extemporaneous and prepared speech. As a result, a total of twenty-nine students will compete at the state level. Last year twenty-eight students qualified.

According to Joseph Tisdelle, V.I.C.A. Co-Advisor, "We are very proud of our students' effort in the District competition and we are sure that they will do equally well in the State competition."

Mattapoisett and Rochester winners included: Brandon Baccocchi of Rochester, finalist, Architectural Drafting; John McKinney of Mattapoisett, gold medal, Electronics Product Servicing; Robert

WHODUNIT SENIOR CLASS

Tom Gibney from the Bristol County District Attorney's office, and Kenneth Martin, a state police officer, spoke to Mrs. Canastra's WHODUNIT Senior English Elective class on February 12th at the Old Colony Regional Vocational-Technical High School.

Mr. Martin explained how state police and detectives search for clues after a crime has been committed. He talked about the scientology of blood splatterings, footprints, and fingerprints. He mentioned the AFIS (Automatic Fingerprint Information System) which is a computer bank that saves detectives months of time trying to match fingerprints with criminal files across the nation. He also spoke about DNA technology and how that is becoming a very popular method of finding evidence, especially in paternity cases. He did state, however, that fingerprinting was the only positive identification system they currently have.

Mr. Martin showed students a video of an actual crime investigation which had students follow the course of the detectives as they found evidence.

Students found the presentation extremely interesting, some commenting on how much detective work has been computerized since the Lizzie Borden days which was what they were studying.

JAMES E. REED EXHIBIT

The New Bedford Whaling Museum opened a special exhibition, "James E. Reed, Pioneer Black Photographer", on February 28th. On exhibit are photographs taken between 1888 and 1914 of New Bedford's wharves and whaleships, streets and buildings, and especially its people, black and white, young and old, prominent and obscure. This exhibit runs through April 14th and represents another of the Museum's contributions to increasing knowledge about New Bedford's African-American community.

James Reed began his career in 1880 as an assistant to George F. Parlow and then formed a partnership with P.C. Headley, Jr. In 1895 he bought Headley's share of the business and operated the studio on Purchase Street on his own for the next nineteen years.

In 1914 the widening of Purchase Street forced Reed to close his business. He then became the first photo-archivist for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, a position he held until his retirement in 1934.

Randall Pollard, James Reed's grandson, is guest curator for this initial exhibition of the work of New Bedford's most successful early black photographer.

This exhibit is supported in part by the eye talk

Q. When should I take my child for a first vision examination?

A. Every child should have a thorough vision examination by age three, unless noticeable symptoms, like crossed eyes, appear earlier. A child does not have to know the alphabet or be able to read.

Your optometrist can check your child's ability to see clearly far away and up close; to change focus from far to near and back; and to use the two eyes together as a team.

The optometrist can also detect any tendency toward such vision problems as nearsightedness, farsightedness or astigmatism. Treatment to prevent or slow these problems may be started.

In addition, this first examination is important in diagnosing a "lazy eye" early, when treatment is most effective.

Your optometrist can also determine if your child's vision skills are developing normally and provide help if they are not.

CTS Blast, oversize, $180, all-graphite, 109.6 sq. in., 12.24 oz., string at 55-70 lbs.

LAB ANALYSIS: Large hitting area; fairly flexible; good dampening.

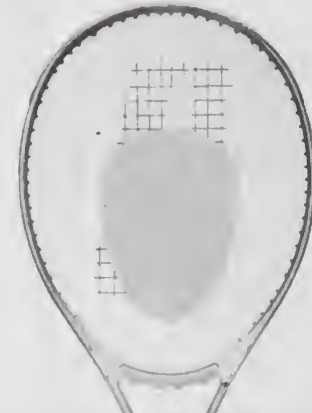

PLAY-TEST REACTION: The Blast should make a lot of noise in the racket market, if the panel is any indication. Tiltmann: "Top-notch. Excellent control, power and mobility. It offers the benefits of an oversize without feeling like one." Lally: "A dependable frame. Every shot was clean and predictable. It enhanced my serving and volleying as well as my baseline play." Marek: "Another super Prince. Very powerful, with good mobility and control. Overheads and serves had an especially solid feel." Ramnath: "A good, reliable performance racket with no surprises. Performs well on most shots."

SPECIAL FEATURES: Constant Taper System for power and added response near tip; Cushion Grip System for comfort and shock absorption.

PLAYING STYLE: Best for all-courtiers.

SKILL LEVEL: Best for intermediate and advanced players.

CTS Lightning, oversize, $200, all-graphite, 107.3 sq. in., 12.24 oz., string at 55-70 lbs.

LAB ANALYSIS: Much larger power zone than the midsize Lightning (reviewed February 1990); flexible.

PLAY-TEST REACTION: Lightning does strike twice. This frame received marks as high as those given to its midsize counterpart. Ramnath: "Good mobility. It performs well on both power and touch shots." Tym: "Not too wide, not too stiff, not too whippy—it's just right." Lally: "Easy to maneuver and control and with very little shock. A great volleying racket." Seewagen: "A nice racket for players who want reasonable power with control, flexibility and a more conventional feel." Tiltmann: "A well-balanced racket with excellent mobility, touch and response."

LAB ANALYSIS: Very light; average stiffness; fine vibration absorption.

PLAY-TEST REACTION: Testers found the Storm to be the most powerful and mobile of the three Princes reviewed this month. Seewagen: "More than enough power for anyone. What I liked about this racket was that when I added my own dose of power I didn't lose control. A confidence-builder." Lally: "More responsive than the Blast or Lightning. Offers control, power, a solid feel and easy maneuverability. A+ in my book." Marek: "Just the right amount of stiffness for me. Add mobility and stability and you have a winner."
